Introduction

Mastercard publishes a monthly edition of the Certified Vendors (for Card Production Services of Any Mastercard, Maestro, or Cirrus Card) in AN 1157—Vendors for Card Production Services—Monthly Edition to identify vendors certified for card production services.

Refer to Chapter 2.3 Card Production Security Standards in the Security Rules and Procedures manual for further information regarding card production security requirements and obligations. The policies and procedures applied to third party vendors that perform card production services on behalf of an issuer are available in the Card Vendor Certification Standards manual. This publication is available on Mastercard Connect™.

Card Production Activities

Mastercard defines the list of vendor card production activities as follows.

Card Manufacture Services

Service	Definition
Chip Embedding	Process by which an integrated circuit is permanently attached to a payment card to become an integral part of the card.
Card Manufacture	Card production process composed of one or more of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Pre-press (card design layout, printing films, and printing plates generation)• White plastic sheets printing• Sheets assembly• Sheets lamination• Sheets cutting or punching• Hologram, security foil and signature panel hot stamping

Card Personalization Services

Service	Definition
Card Personalization	Process by which account, and when needed, product information is written to a card body, uniquely linking the card to a specific account. There are multiple technologies (e.g., embossing, magnetic stripe encoding, laser printing, indent printing, etc.) that may be used to personalize a card. Certification for card personalization authorizes the vendor to utilize any personalization technology that achieves Mastercard card design approval.
Chip Personalization	Process of “writing” data to the integrated circuit by means of electrical or electromagnetic interaction between the chip and personalization device. Chip personalization usually occurs subsequent to chip embedding but may also occur prior to or during chip embedding.

Specialized Card Production Services

Service	Definition
Card Fulfillment	Stand-alone service by which a newly issued or reissued card is combined with additional materials resulting in a complete package ready for distribution to the cardholder. A facility approved for personalization services is also approved for card fulfillment as part of its personalization activity.
Credential Management (CMS)	Service whereby digital credentials are obtained from an Account Enablement System (AES) and the credentials are provisioned to the Mobile Payment Application (MPA) on a digital payment device to facilitate electronic payments as per the Mastercard Cloud Based Payments (MCBP) specification.
Credential Management Dedicated (CMS-D)	Service that obtains digital credentials from the Mastercard Digital Enablement System (MDES) and provisions the credentials to the Mobile Payment Application (MPA). The credentials obtained from MDES are tokenized and encrypted so a CMS-D does not have access to account data. GVCP certification is only required for early generation (MCBP Versions 1.0 and 1.1) implementations where a CMS-D may have access to account data.
Data Preparation	Stand-alone service by which issuer and cardholder data are processed and configured for subsequent personalization by the issuer or different certified vendor. A facility approved for personalization services is also approved for data preparation as part of its personalization activity.
Disaster Recovery	Card production at a facility established and activated exclusively during an emergency event according to a certified vendor's business continuity plan (BCP). Card production at this facility is only authorized for the vendor that established it. Disaster recovery facilities must not be used to alleviate capacity restraints associated with normal card production. These facilities are evaluated against a subset of the security requirements and must be upgraded to comply with the full set of security requirements upon activation.
Partial Manufacture	Facility that produces card components containing sensitive security features or personalization data where the full card is subsequently completed by a certified vendor.
PIN Mailing	Service whereby a PIN is generated, mailer is printed and the PIN is mailed to the cardholder.
PIN Electronic	Service whereby a PIN is generated and electronically distributed to the cardholder.
Security Operations Center (SOC)	The high-security environment purposefully established for the monitoring and administration of the security systems of the managed vendor facilities.
Trusted Service Manager (TSM)	Service whereby a payment application, personalization data, or post-issuance application management commands are sent to a secure element within a mobile payment device via an over-the-air (OTA) communication channel.

Card Quality Management

Card Quality Management (CQM) is a separate Mastercard program that assesses card production quality and complements the site security compliance managed by the Global Vendor Certification Program (GVCP). CQM is mandatory for vendors that manufacture chip cards and strongly recommended for vendors that personalize chip cards as it promotes high quality, reliability, and compliance with Mastercard card standards.

The CQM information included in the list of certified vendors provides a convenient reference whereby issuers can confirm CQM participation and can obtain contact information for further information about the quality label(s) that a vendor has achieved. CQM quality labels identify the card production component assessed and its assessment status.

CQM Card Labels

CQM labels are granted for a given activity, location, and technology. Activities include manufacture of the integrated circuit card (ICC), ICC module, card body, embedding, and personalization. Technologies include contact only, contactless, and dual interface cards. The list of certified vendors only provides CQM information for services that are subject to GVCP certification. The services subject to GVCP certification are defined above.

The last digit of the CQM label provides the CQM status for the activity with either an R (which indicates the activity is recognized) or A (which indicates the activity is approved). Recognized vendors are in the process of having their production activity assessed, while approved indicates the assessment process was successfully completed. Questions related to the CQM quality assessment process, testing criteria, and labels should be addressed to:

Email: cqm@smart-consulting.com

CQM Indicator in Monthly Vendor List

Within the list of certified vendors, the CQM indicator Q is provided for each GVCP-certified activity to denote that the vendor has successfully completed the CQM quality assessment program (CQM label status = A). Mastercard encourages the prospective customer to obtain the applicable CQM label from the vendor. The name and email address of the individual established by the vendor as the contact for CQM is included in the vendor list and is also identified by a Q preceding the individual's name.

Holograms and Security Foils

Mastercard holograms and security foils are hot stamping products embedded with hidden security features, which serve to authenticate the integrity of the physical card. The Mastercard Hologram Operations Team establishes the procurement relationship and manages the distribution of these products with card production facilities who are certified for card manufacturing services. For more information, please contact holograms@mastercard.com.

Holograms

Holograms consist of a global design that is hot stamped on the card front or back of Mastercard branded cards. Maestro holograms are optional on Maestro branded cards. These are standard hologram products that are available to all vendors who manufacture Mastercard and Maestro branded cards on behalf of Issuers. These products include:

- Silver and Gold Hologram
- Silver Debit and Copper Debit Hologram
- Maestro Hologram

Security Foils

The Premium Brand Mark (PBM) and Mastercard Secure Symbol (MSS) security foils are a representation of Mastercard's brand that must be positioned as Mastercard's branding element on the card front. Security foil products are only available to card manufacturers who have successfully completed a one-time certification process to validate application of the security foil to cards in accordance with Mastercard specifications. Certification must be completed before a vendor may accept an Issuer request to apply these security foils.

Within the Vendors Certified for Card Production Activities section, an indicator in the Services column identifies vendors who have successfully achieved certification to hot stamp security foil products on behalf of issuers. The P indicator following Card Manufacturer denotes vendors who have successfully achieved certification to hot stamp the Premium Brand Mark. The S indicator following Card Manufacture denotes vendors who have successfully achieved certification to hot stamp the Mastercard Secure Symbol.

Contact Info and Services Indicators

The Vendors Certified for Card Production Activities section identifies each certified vendor, facility location, contact information and services the facility is authorized to perform. Indicators within the Contact Info and Services columns further differentiate the supplied information as follows.

Contact Info Column Indicators

- (P) Primary GVCP Contact - Primary contact person for issuers seeking to communicate with the vendor
- (S) Secondary GVCP Contact - Alternate contact person should the primary contact be unavailable
- (Q) CQM Contact - Contact person for inquires regarding Card Quality Management (CQM)

Service Column Indicators

- (Q) CQM Indicator - Indicates that the service is CQM recognized or approved
- (P) PBM Indicator - Indicates that the card manufacturer is certified to hot stamp the Premium Brand Mark security foil
- (S) MSS Indicator - Indicates that the card manufacturer is certified to hot stamp the Mastercard Secure Symbol security foil
